

Priority Pass reveals largest library of airport lounge photos

Priority Pass, the world's leading independent airport lounge program, has added a wide range of photos to its website – instantly creating the world's largest library of images of airport lounges.

The Priority Pass website includes details of more than 600 airport lounges and over 300 now have photos included on the site, allowing members to see the exclusive areas available to them.

The photos have been collated from lounges and airports all over the world, and include lounges from London to Hong Kong, from Dallas to Durban and hundreds of points in between.

"Most of our members know our lounges quite well, but their travels can often take them through new airports, and it's great to give them a chance to see what the lounges look like in advance." said Jonathan French, Head of Brand at Priority Pass. "It's also a boon to anyone thinking about joining Priority Pass, but wanting to know what they can experience as members."

About Priority Pass

Priority Pass was launched in 1992 with the goal of providing frequent travelers with airport lounge access, regardless of their class of travel, airline flown or existing membership in an airline frequent flyer program.

In 18 years Priority Pass has become the world's largest independent airport lounge access program. Starting with just 55 lounges, today Priority Pass works with over 600 lounges in more than 300 cities throughout the world - and the network of lounges continues to grow.

Priority Pass has millions of members in all corners of the world and there are Priority Pass offices in Dallas, London and Hong Kong.

How Membership Works

Priority Pass offers three membership plans, each appropriate to a different type of traveller.

Prestige Membership offers outstanding value for money for frequent travellers. For a single annual membership fee of US$399, members can make unlimited visits to all the lounges in the programme.

Standard Plus Membership is available at a lower annual fee of US$249, and includes 10 free visits per year to any of the lounges. Further visits during the year are charged at US$27 per visit.

Standard Membership is just US$99 per year, and members then pay US$27 for each visit made.

All three membership plans allow members to take guests into the lounges with them, at a fee of US$27 per guest per visit.
